mother's maiden name: Mérei Rita Ildikó

My name is Máté L. Mérey, and my goal with the master's program is to further develop my creative processes through experimentation and to better integrate into the professional community.

During my undergraduate studies, I realized that I have a strong inclination to delve deeply into topics, striving to understand their fundamental mechanisms, and often building complex systems to bring my ideas to life. This process frequently involves background research, material experimentation, and applying my personal aesthetic preferences. One shortcoming of my previous education was the limited time available to fully develop projects; we primarily focused on solving the given tasks.

I hope that during the master's program, I will have the opportunity to further refine my creative processes, examine them from different perspectives, and start new ones, possibly integrating them into my existing systems. This way, I can establish a truly unique approach that I can use as a tool for personal expression and experience.

Moreover, social life is important to me. I have realized that it can be most effectively built from the ground up, with organizational support, of course. Some of us have already brainstormed on how to better engage others, creating a more cohesive and inspiring community.

I hope that my ambitions will crystallize into successful outcomes during the master's program, both professionally and socially. Thank you for reading my motivation letter, and I look forward to your positive response.

Sincerely,
Máté L. Mérey
